About Holly

My name is Holly Moeller, and I'm an illustrator from the UK. I create cosy watercolour and pen illustrations that celebrate the British countryside, perfect for nature lovers and those young at heart.

My pieces combine the softness of watercolour with the bold vibrancy of pen strokes, which creates a bright, whimsical effect brimming with personality. I'm excited to share my upcoming solo exhibition, Four Seasons, debuting in Greater Manchester in May 2025.

My work has been featured by brands like Fat Face and Asteria Press, and can be found in garden centres and gift shops throughout the north of England. I'm currently seeking agent representation and I am open to licensing opportunities.
